can anyone tell me about help for my autistic son in mobile. what i've encountered so far is no help at all. his nighttime anxiety is getting worse and i am out of answers (as are what doctors are available to him). he's on medicaid, but if it takes it i'll find some way to pay a real doctor, if it would help my baby be happy again!!(: unsure:

Dixie,
Been there, it is tough! How old is your son? I can't recommend any docs or miracle cures. I can tell you that with my son, it got better as he got older. Hang in there. I remember those looooooonggg nights too! Email me if ya need late night support..
